To whom it may concern,

With a first-class honours grade, I am excited to pursue a new role as a professional developer to bridge the gap between my academic accomplishments and practical experience. I am particularly drawn to the collaborative nature of RESTful and agile development, where teams work together to create efficient and high-quality solutions. I am eager to apply my theoretical knowledge and expand my skills in a professional setting, while also working with innovative technologies and embracing best practices.

By pursuing a Junior Developer role, I aim to gain hands-on experience in coding, debugging, and maintaining applications. I am eager to contribute to the development of robust and scalable software solutions while continuously learning and adapting to industry trends. My strong academic foundation, combined with my enthusiasm for continuous growth, positions me to make valuable contributions to a dynamic organization. I am confident that my dedication to excellence and passion for development will enable me to thrive as a valuable asset to any team.

I believe this opportunity perfectly aligns with my medium-term plan. My goal is to first gain three years of practical experience in a professional role, in order to meet the requirements for pursuing a part-time Master's course in Software Architecture, which would be completed alongside full-time employment as a developer. This combination allows me to further deepen my knowledge and expertise in the field while actively applying what I learn in a professional setting as an engineer. By integrating academic learning with practical experience, I aim to enhance my skills, expand my horizons, and contribute effectively to both my organization and the broader software development community.

Thank you for your consideration,

Sincerely,

Lochlann O Neill
